The competitions during 2021, Scottish Championships and Thistle Cup, are intended for gymnasts aiming for Zonal Grades 2022 and Groups aiming for Group Seeding 2022. Alternative competition opportunities for other gymnasts will be provided, through the Bitesize series.

These two competitions will be run as “hybrid” events, with gymnasts competing in their own training venues, their performance broadcast live on zoom, and with a virtual judging panel, and virtual spectators from own and other clubs

The competitions for 2022 are intended to run as in-person events. More information will be provided when available.

Scottish Championships 2021

Due to the extended return to training phase, the overall Scottish Championships will be decided on the pieces highlighted in blue in the table below. As there are no current gymnast levels, there will be no separate competitions for Levels 3, 4 or 5.

All individual gymnasts may compete in their 2021 age groups, but with apparatus selected as preparation for 2022 NDP Grades. All age groups will be judged according to the BG competition requirements for that age group, as defined in the 2020 NDP. Gymnasts may also choose to compete one year above, i.e. in their 2022 age group.

All group gymnasts will compete in their 2022 age groups, with apparatus selected as preparation for 2022 Group Seeding.

Note that Disability gymnasts not preparing for Grades will also be able to enter the Disability category.
